Description

This brick house dates from after 1877 since it does not appear on the Atlas map of that year. It is a one and a half story, three bay brick structure with a central entrance. Windows have shingle pane sash with the three second story windows having a single sash beneath wide wood lintels. The main entrance is located in the center bay and it includes a narrow transom above the door. A porch across the front has had its posts replaced.

This house was until recently in the Wyand family who owned the farm from which this lot was taken at least since the mid 19th century.
